Comarch – Forecast of 2019 Q3 Results

Rating: buy | target price: PLN 231.00 | current price: PLN 173.50

CMR PW; CMR.WA | IT, Poland

Analyst: Paweł Szpigiel +48 22 438 24 06

Comarch is scheduled to release 2019 third-quarter financials on 25 November. We expect to see EBITDA of PLN 62.6m and net profit of PLN 28.3m, indicating growth at respective annual rates of 64% and 56%, albeit driven by the reversal of a reserve related to a contract settlement with Poland's social security administration, ZUS. Adjusted for the one-time gain and for IFRS 16 effects, the quarterly EBITDA is likely to approximate PLN 39.4m, indicating a much less robust year-over-year increase of 3%, underpinned by negative base effects with the year-ago earnings boosted by a lucrative government contract.

- At an estimated PLN 343.4m, revenue for 2019 Q3 is likely to show small, 0.6% contraction from Q3 2018.
- The year-ago comparable base is high thanks to the completion in the period of a major part of a contract for a digital court recording system for the Ministry of Justice, resulting in segmental revenue from public-sector services of PLN 80.7m compared to PLN 41.7m expected in Q3 2019. The segments of telecom, retail, and service sector solutions will offset this drop with higher revenues.
- The gross margin for Q3 2019 might amount to 28.1%.

Historical quarterly results and 2019 Q3 estimates

Net profit	18.2	29.2	7.0	20.2	28.3	55.9%

Source: Comarch, E - estimates by Dom Maklerski mBanku

- Q3'19 SG&A expenses are estimated at PLN 68.2m vs. PLN 58.3m in Q3'18.
- The reversal of the PLN 24.2m reserve after the ZUS settlement will probably add to non-recurring income from other operations, but after other operating costs of ca. PLN 10.0m the net effect of other operating activity in Q3 2019 might approximate PLN 14.2m.
- Net profit after net financing gains of PLN 6m and tax at an affective rate of 23.0% is expected to come in at PLN 28.3m.

Strong and weak points of valuation methods used in recommendations:

DCF – acknowledged as the most methodologically correct method of valuation; it consists in discounting financial flows generated by a company; its weak point is the significant susceptibility to a change of forecast assumptions in the model.

assumptions in the model.

Relative – based on a comparison of valuation multipliers of companies from a given sector; simple in construction, reflects the current state of the market better than DCF; weak points include substantial variability (fluctuations together with market indices) as well as difficulty in the selection of the group of comparable companies.

Economic profits – discounting of future economic profits; the weak point is high sensitivity to changes in the assumptions made in the valuation model.

Discounted Dividends (DDM) – discounting of future dividends; the weak point is high sensitivity to changes in the assumptions as to future dividends made in the valuation model.

NAV - valuation based on equity value, one of the most frequently used method in case of developing companies; the weak point of the method is that it does not factor in future changes in revenue/profits of a
