Moneta Money Bank - 2019 Q3 Earnings Highlights

recommendation: buy | target price: CZK 94.33 | current price: CZK 77.00

MONET CP; MONET.PR | Banks, Czech Republic

Opracowanie: Michał Konarski +48 22 438 24 05, Mikołaj Lemańczyk +48 22 438 24 07

- Moneta Money Bank generated net income of CZK 1,058m in Q3 2019, up 2.8% Q/Q and down 15% Y/Y. The quarterly earnings exceeded our estimates and the consensus forecast on higher-than-expected fee income and lower operating costs and provisions, combined with a an NPL sale and a YTD one-time gain of CZK 330m.
- Net interest income was in line at CZK 2,009m, up 3% Q/Q and 8% Y/Y. NIM over average assets decreased by 12bp q/q to 3.64%, according to Moneta led by higher costs of deposits.
- Fee income grew by 3% Q/Q and 12% Y/Y, driven mainly by loan fees, and at CZK 499m it came in 6% above the consensus estimate.
- Operating expenses rose 1% Y/Y but fell 2% Q/Q thanks to lower payroll and administrative expenses. The C/I ratio was reduced to 43.9% in Q3 from 46.3% in Q2.
- Provisioning amounted to CZK 168m in Q3, +14% Q/Q and +11% Y/Y, coming in 15% below the expectations of the market.
- Moneta has raised its FY2019 net earnings guidance from upwards of CZK 3.7bn to upwards of CZK 4bn, and it is targeting CoR in the 30-40bp range and ROTE at 16.5%. The DPS target is intact at CZK 6.65.
- Moneta should see its shares move higher today on the solid Q3 results and on strong overall ytd performance with net income for the year to 30 September equivalent to 81% of our FY forecast. We consider strong fee income and cost discipline as the highlights of the third-quarter results. Moneta shares a shrinking-NIM problem with all of its Czech sector peers.

The activity of mBank S.A. is subject to the supervision of the Polish Financial Supervision Commission.

Individuals who did not participate in the preparation of recommendations, but had or could have had access to recommendations prior to their publication, are employees of Dom Maklerski mBanku authorised to access the premises in which recommendations are prepared and/or individuals having to access to recommendations based on their corporate roles, other than the analysts mentioned as the authors of the present recommendations.

This publication constitutes investment research within the meaning of Art. 36.1 of Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/565.

The compensation of the research analysts responsible for preparing investment research is determined independently of and without regard to the compensation of or revenue generated by any other employee of the Bank, including but not limited to any employee whose business interests may reasonably be considered to conflict with the interests of the persons to whom the investment research prepared by the Research Department of Dom Maklerski mBanku is disseminated. With that being said, since one of the factors taken into consideration when determining the compensation of research analysts is the degree of fulfillment of annual financial targets by customer service functions, there is a risk that the adequacy of compensation offered to persons preparing investment research will be questioned by a competent oversight body.

For U.S. persons only: This research report is a product of mBank SA which is the employer of the research analyst(s) who has prepared the research report. The research analyst(s) preparing the research report is/are resident outside the United States (U.S.) and are not associated persons of any U.S. regulated broker-dealer and therefore the analyst(s) is/are not subject to supervision by a U.S. broker-dealer, and is/are not required to satisfy the regulatory licensing requirements of FINRA or required to otherwise comply with U.S. rules or regulations regarding, among other things, communications with a subject company, public appearances and trading securities held by a research analyst account.

This report is intended for distribution by mBank SA only to "Major Institutional Investors" as defined by Rule 15a-6(b)(4) of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Act, 1934 (the Exchange Act) and interpretations thereof by U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) in reliance on Rule 15a 6(a)(2). If the recipient of this report is not a Major Institutional Investor as specified above, then it should not act upon this report and return the same to the sender. Further, this report may not be copied, duplicated and/or transmitted onward to any U.S. person, which is not the Major Institutional Investor.

In reliance on the exemption from registration provided by Rule 15a-6 of the Exchange Act and interpretations thereof by the SEC in order to conduct certain business with Major Institutional Investors, mBank SA has entered into an agreement with a U.S. registered broker-dealer, Cabrera Capital Markets. ("Cabrera"). Transactions in securities discussed in this research report should be effected through Cabrera or another U.S. registered broker dealer.

Strong and weak points of valuation methods used in recommendations:

DCF – acknowledged as the most methodologically correct method of valuation; it consists in discounting financial flows generated by a company; its weak point is the significant susceptibility to a change of forecast assumptions in the model.

Relative – based on a comparison of valuation multipliers of companies from a given sector; simple in construction, reflects the current state of the market better than DCF; weak points include substantial variability (fluctuations together with market indices) as well as difficulty in the selection of the group of comparable companies.

Economic profits – discounting of future economic profits; the weak point is high sensitivity to changes in the assumptions made in the valuation model.

Discounted Dividends (DDM) – discounting of future dividends; the weak point is high sensitivity to changes in the assumptions as to future dividends made in the valuation model.

NAV – valuation based on equity value, one of the most frequently used method in case of developing companies; the weak point of the method is that it does not factor in future changes in revenue/profits of a company.
